With its lush green surroundings, snow capped mountains and its mysticism, Dharamshala combines the best of nature and divine energy. A unique blend of colonial origin, Tibetan influence, vast tea gardens and temples make Dharamshala an invigorating experience.

Nestled amidst thick coniferous forests, Dharamshala is an archetypal getaway for jaded city souls. As you look up, the green fringes merge with the snow-clad mountains and as your eyes shift downwards, the vast panorama of the Kangra valley embraces you.

Club Mahindra Kangra Valley provides you the best of Dharamshala with the most comfortable stay. The resort is located in the foothills of the Dhauladhar range, 5 km away from Dharamshala city on the Palampur road. The elegantly well-appointed 23 rooms are built on the mountain ridge and offer a breathtaking view of the ranges.

What are the places of interest?

Dharamshala with its multi hues and cultural importance attracts people of all ages, religion and nationality. Situated amidst pine forests and snowcapped mountains, the place is a haven for nature lovers. Dharamshala is rich in historical and cultural legacy that could leave a lasting impression in the minds of the visitors

St. John's Church

One of the most poignant memories of the British Raj is the church of St. John, situated in the wilderness. This charmingly dressed stone church is located just 8-km from Dharamshala on the way to McLeod Ganj. Under the shade of Deodar branches, a memorial has been made over the body of the British Viceroy, Lord Elgin who died at Dharamshala in 1863.

Dal Lake

Surrounded by high and green Deodar trees is the lake, which fills a mountain bowl. Situated 11-kms away from the town, this lake is easily approachable by road and makes an enchanting and serene picnic spot.

Kangra Art Museum

This treasure trove of the Kangra valley's arts, crafts, and rich past, displays artifacts that date back to the 5th century. The museum also includes a gallery of Kangra's famous miniature paintings and a representative collection of sculptures, pottery, and anthropological items.

Masroor Temple

Fifteen richly carved monolithic rock temples sculpted in the splendid style of the Kailash temple at Ellora and dating back to the 8th century are to be found at Masroor, just 15 km south of Kangra. Images of Ram Sita and Laksman can be found in the sanctum of the main temple.

Which are the places of worship ?

Jwalamukhi

Dedicated to the "Goddess of Light", the temple is one of the most popular Hindu temples in northern India. In this temple there is a copper pipe through which natural gas comes out, the priest of the temple lights this and the blue flame emanating is worshipped as the manifestation of Goddess. The temple is topped by a golden spire, a gift from the Emperor Akbar. The famous temple of Jwalamukhi is 30-km. from Kangra and 56-km from Dharamshala.

Chamunda Devi

Not so far from the town is the famous temple with the majestic Dhaulandhars as a backdrop. It is an enchanting spot with glorious views of the mountains, the Baner Khud, Pathiar and Lahala forests.

Nurpur

Named after Nurjehan the consort of the Mughal Emperor Jehangir, it has an ancient fort and an exquisitely carved Krishna temple. Nurpur is also famous for its fine Pashmina shawls and textiles
